

Political Approach

- 1. Establishing a strong state with full sovereignty over its political decisions, protected in its land, waters, and airspace, thus preserving the dignity of the nation and its citizens.
- 2. Establishing a judicial system of the highest standards of integrity and justice, ensuring fairness for all Iraqis, both inside and outside the country.
- 3. Establishing specialized bodies for financial auditing, quality control, and internal oversight of all Iraqi state institutions, adhering to the highest international standards and in accordance with the principles of good governance and transparency.
- 4. Developing a program to rectify the granting of Iraqi citizenship and adopting a mechanism for revoking citizenship from those who do not deserve it, in accordance with the legal regulations governing its granting and withdrawal, as stipulated by legislation and legal systems.

- 5. Fostering regional and international relations and building long-term strategic alliances based on shared interests and mutual respect.
- 6. Building a diversified and sustainable national economy based on multiple sources of income, revitalizing trade, and reducing dependence on oil.
- 7. Securing the borders completely and establishing balanced and peaceful relations with neighboring countries, based on good neighborliness and non-interference in internal and external affairs.
- 8. Pursuing a balanced foreign policy based on not engaging in hostility with any country due to external disputes, and resorting to relevant international bodies in the event of conflicts.
- 9. Modernizing the military and security systems with the latest global technologies and investing in Iraqi expertise to develop national defense capabilities.

- 10. Fully opening up the tourism sector in all its forms: religious, historical, medical, commercial, and recreational, both domestically and internationally.
- 11. Revitalize the industrial sector, develop national industries and retail sectors, and stimulate domestic and international trade.
- 12. Modernize education and scientific research systems, establish international partnerships for sending students abroad, support scientific fellowships, and empower youth as the builders of the future.
- 13. Invest in renewable and clean energy, develop recycling programs, and build environmentally friendly energy production projects.
- 14. Enhance domestic and foreign investment programs to create job opportunities and support the national economy, and build strategic and sustainable partnerships with all stakeholders, including scientific research, mining, artificial intelligence technology, and electronic data services, prioritizing Iraqi expertise as key players.

- 15. Reform the salary scale for employees and retirees, activate the Social and Family Welfare Law, and implement a comprehensive health and social security system.
- 16. Impose localization and technology transfer requirements in contracts with foreign companies to ensure the development of national capabilities and prepare the necessary infrastructure to benefit the Iraqi state from these contracts.
- 17. Review the Iraqi Constitution and amend articles that do not align with the needs and future aspirations of Iraqi society.
- 18. Develop integrated programs and plans for all Iraqi state institutions and departments, including security, military, governmental, and service sectors, while integrating citizens into these programs to make them essential and fully relied upon elements.

19- Neutralizing national, religious and partisan orientations in political work, various unions and civil society institutions, and that patriotism, the Iraqi identity of the individual and scientific and practical competence are the only approach to being present in the political arena and working in the public sector.

20. Revitalizing the agricultural sector in general, and amending laws related to agriculture, agricultural industries, and agricultural investment in accordance with the highest international standards.

21. Enacting new laws that guarantee freedom of opinion and expression, freedom of the press and media, and public culture, as well as establishing clear regulations to preserve Iraqi cultural identity in all its diverse aspects.
